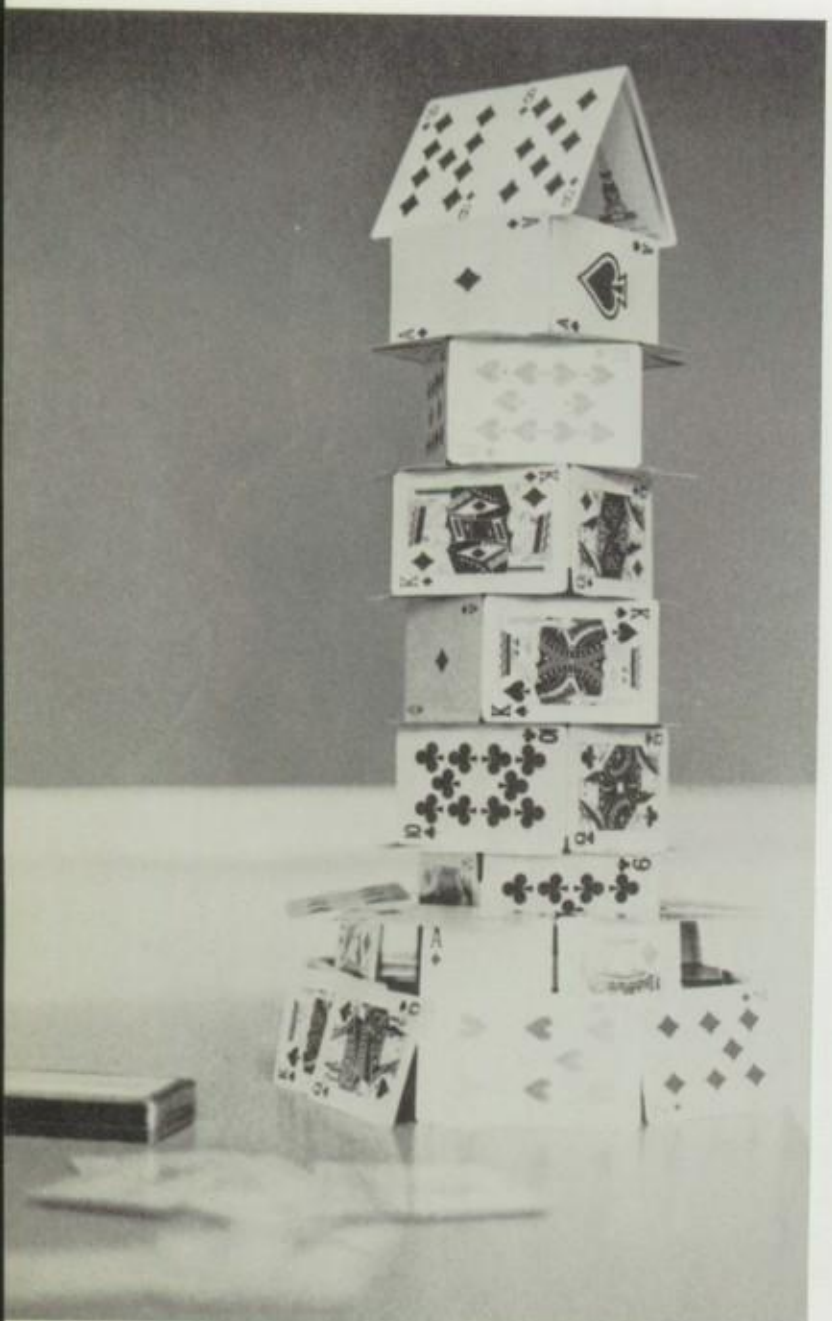
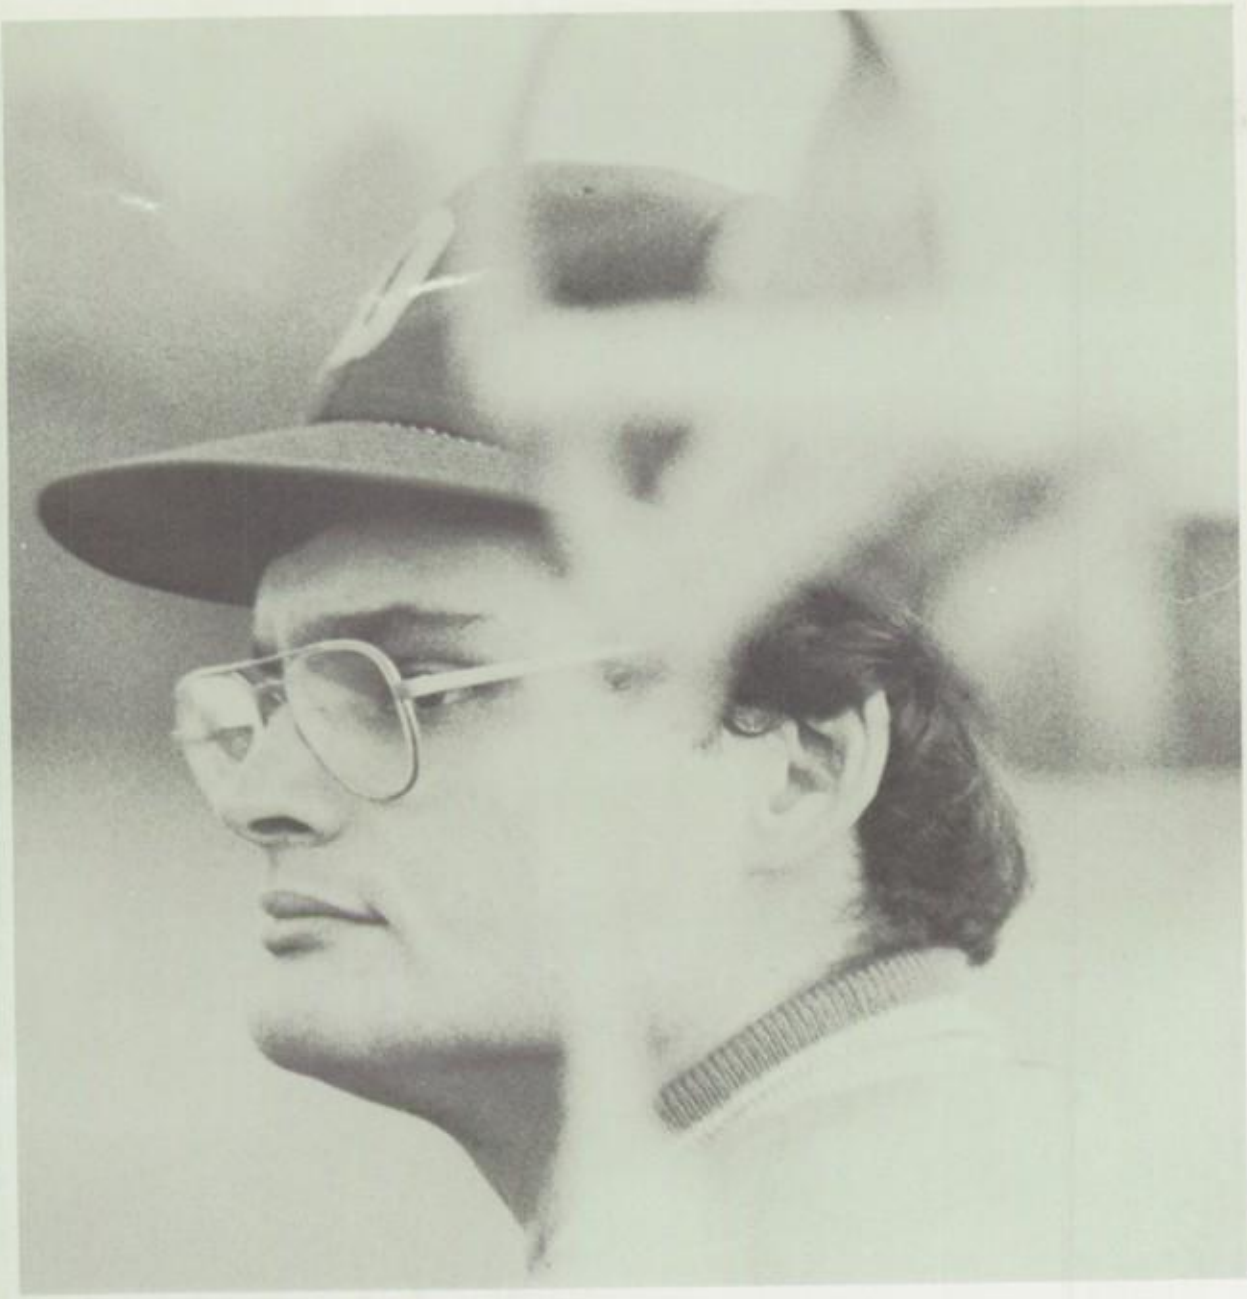
PLAY YOUR TRUMP



Steady hands and rigid nerves combined in the construction of this card house. Any slight movement would have meant disaster.

Ready, aim, shoot! Sophomore Sherry Johnson zeros in on the bulls-eye as she competes against her physical education class for points in archery competition.



Freshman football coach Mr. Bob Frieje watches from the sidelines as his defensive team attempts to stop a scoring drive by the Pike Red Devils.

PLAY YOUR TRUMP

Scholastic and athletic competition among each of the four classes at Decatur Central is constantly increasing. Every student is searching for that certain play which would better their game. There has been a 20% increase in the enrollment of vocational education classes and a 5-10% in courses specifically geared toward the college bound student. This illustrates the growing concern for post-high school success.

Some 88 faculty members become decisive scorekeepers as grades play a major part in determining a victorious outcome over failure. Since the college entrance requirements have risen, they become even more important to seniors.

Fund raising projects, field trips, and parties aid seventeen clubs by dealing 1450 students a good hand of activities from which to choose.

A coaching staff of 23 along with their players form a partnership as they attempt to overpower their opponent by laying their cards on the table. The Cross Country team's 3 Hokum-Karum championships in the last 4 years proved the Hawk's ability.

Once the education of an individual is completed some will try to go alone, in an effort to reach their goals quicker. However more will find it easier to take a friend along. Therefore, as high school comes quickly to a close the game is too far along to give up. Each now has the opportunity to make a winning effort in life by playing his cards wisely. So with the future as the worthy opponent, students plan their lives with one thought in mind, PLAY YOUR TRUMP.

LAY YOUR CARDS ON THE TABLE

No matter what game, the best score always wins—Right? Wrong. A 100% performance by a football team which loses 35 to 0, statistically enters one more in the loss column, which ultimately erases the remembrance of a well-played game.

Besides sporting events, every game which life encounters must be played with a positive attitude. An attitude of never giving-up, no matter how dim the last hand looks. Because when all the cards are laid on the table, the player who did not fold can never be a loser.

Above: Success in selling advertisements for the yearbook often becomes difficult, but always is essential. Ginger Vandivier overcomes the obstacles and convinces the manager of "Morrison's" that it is a good investment.

When rival Ben Davis enters Hawk country all four classes combine their spirit in search of a victory.

Senior Jill Thorpe proudly displays the crown of Miss Watermelon 1977.

Senior class sponsor Miss Janet Shahan waits to present the trophy to the winner of the seed spitting contest.

THE SHUFFLE

Tests, homework, themes and projects are a part of high school which is dealt to students everyday. However, homecoming, prom, the musical and the play add to the daily shuffle. The worry of dates and theatrical auditions accompany these annual events.

The growing addition of clubs to the DCHS hand of activities provided students with a harder decision on how they planned to spend each activity period. After these decisions became final, the responsibilities of activating each organization lay in the hands of the members.

If students remember to play their trumps and face education positively, then extra-curricular activities will help ease the game. But if not, they will only add to THE SHUFFLE.

"Your Song," performed by rock group Madison Zane, provides a warm atmosphere and easy dancing for Kevin Loy and Patty Luther at the 1977 prom.

The mascot of Decatur Central shows which team he is backing in Super Bowl IV.

Cannons may be obsolete weapons, but to Clark Sawyer they represent an interesting hobby.

The Blue Hawk Marching Band achieved a first place rating at this C.Y.O. contest at Lebanon High School. Kevin Eldridge watches attentively one of the major judging categories of the contest—inspection.

Somewhere Over

A rainbow of events surrounded the 1977 prom. A record crowd of 500 gathered at the Murat Temple on April 23 for an evening of dancing to the music of Madison Zane.

The junior class under sponsors Mrs. Diane Ehlers and Mr. Lowell Billings presented the most expensive prom ever at DCHS, with the costs totalling over $3000. Decorations were designed and created by Mr. Ralley Bunce, an employee of the American Decorating Company. The multi-colored centerpieces and "Wizard of Oz" decor coincided with the theme, "Somewhere Over the Rainbow."

Besides the traditional favors (glasses and programs) for the girls, the juniors decided to present a remembrance to the boys, also, in the form of brandy snifters displaying the theme and emblem of the prom.

Junior class president Jim Bryan crowned Debbie Qualkenbush and David Mills as princess and prince. Seniors Julie Angermeier and Joe Purichia reigned over the evening after they were announced queen and king.

"A Paradise Island" represented the post-prom festivities. Here students enjoyed live bands, a wide variety of food, the film "Trinity" and numerous games. Closing the evening at 6:00 a.m. was an auction.

After only a few hours of sleep, many couples found a way to survive Sunday picnics at Brown County, Turkey Run, Lake Shaffer and other popular parks around the state.

Mrs. Shirley Haflich and Mr. Gene Haflich find it difficult to believe they are entering the Egyptian Room and not the Land of Oz.

The distribution of roses is the responsibility of sophomore couple Marcene Rasmussen and Tim Garver.

Six Months Of Activities Only Three Months Of Time

'The summer seems to just fly by'—Diann Davis

For most students, summer vacation was only a vacation from school, not from activities. Of course there were those first few days of summer needed to get a tan or to celebrate the three month holiday, but usually students were kept well occupied by a wide range of activities.

Driver's education, King's Island, trips to Florida, working on the farm, horseback riding, swimming, running, boating, water skiing, hiking, canoeing, counseling at scout camps, bike riding and motorcycle trips only begin to name the endless list of ways students kept busy. With all the activities students were involved in during the summer, there seemed no way possible to fit school back into their schedules.

Summer vacation provides the time for Diann Davis to get a head start on the purchase of new school clothes.

Donn McKinney starts a typical summer day by exercising his horse "Sparky".

Mowing the lawn may not be Jeff Garrison's favorite way to spend a summer afternoon; yet it is an important household job.

Dave Huff, Gail Dixson, Tom Whyde and Ginger Vandivier spend the last day of their one month summer driver's education course learning how to change a tire.

'Little Mary Sunshine' First Production For New Choir Director

Does "Little Mary Sunshine" ever find true love with Captain "Big Jim" Warington? Does Billy return to redeem his pawn ticket he gave to Nancy? Does Madame Ernestine discover new love with Oscar Fairfax? Does Chief Brown Bear find a new son when the old one disappears? These questions and more were answered on April 15 and 16, 1977 at the presentation of the all-school musical, "Little Mary Sunshine."

Sixty hours of rehearsal by the 19 cast members helped make the first DCHS production for new music director, Mr. Charles Craig, a success. Besides the 19 mentioned, over 50 other students devoted their time to aid make-up, prop, publicity, sets, stage, and technical crews. Seven teachers, including director Mrs. Lori Harkema, also contributed their spare time.

Captain "Big Jim" Warington (Greg Daniel) and "Little Mary Sunshine" (Theresa Reuter) perform "Colorado Love Call" before the captain begins his search for the villain, Yellow Feather.

General Oscar Fairfax (Dave Moscrip) attempts to convince the ladies from Eastchester Finishing School (Teresa Robinson, Sarah Swift, April VanLonden, Sheri Gibson, Debbie French and Tammy Blake) to accept his gifts, through his song "Say Uncle."

Maude (Sheri Gibson) waits her turn while playing croquet with the other young ladies at the Colorado Inn.

Sarah Swift and Teresa Robinson prepare for opening night.

Meeting Mary for the first time the gentlemen of the United States Forest Rangers (Richard Osborn, Pat McGraw, Jeff Vorhies, and Steve Jones) salute her with their song "Little Mary Sunshine."

When Corporal "Billy" Jester (Pat McGraw) learns about Nancy Twinkle's (Janet Kollman) constant flirting, he makes his feelings evident.

After discovering that Mary knows about his murderous antics, Yellow Feather (Don Lee) uses force to keep her quiet.

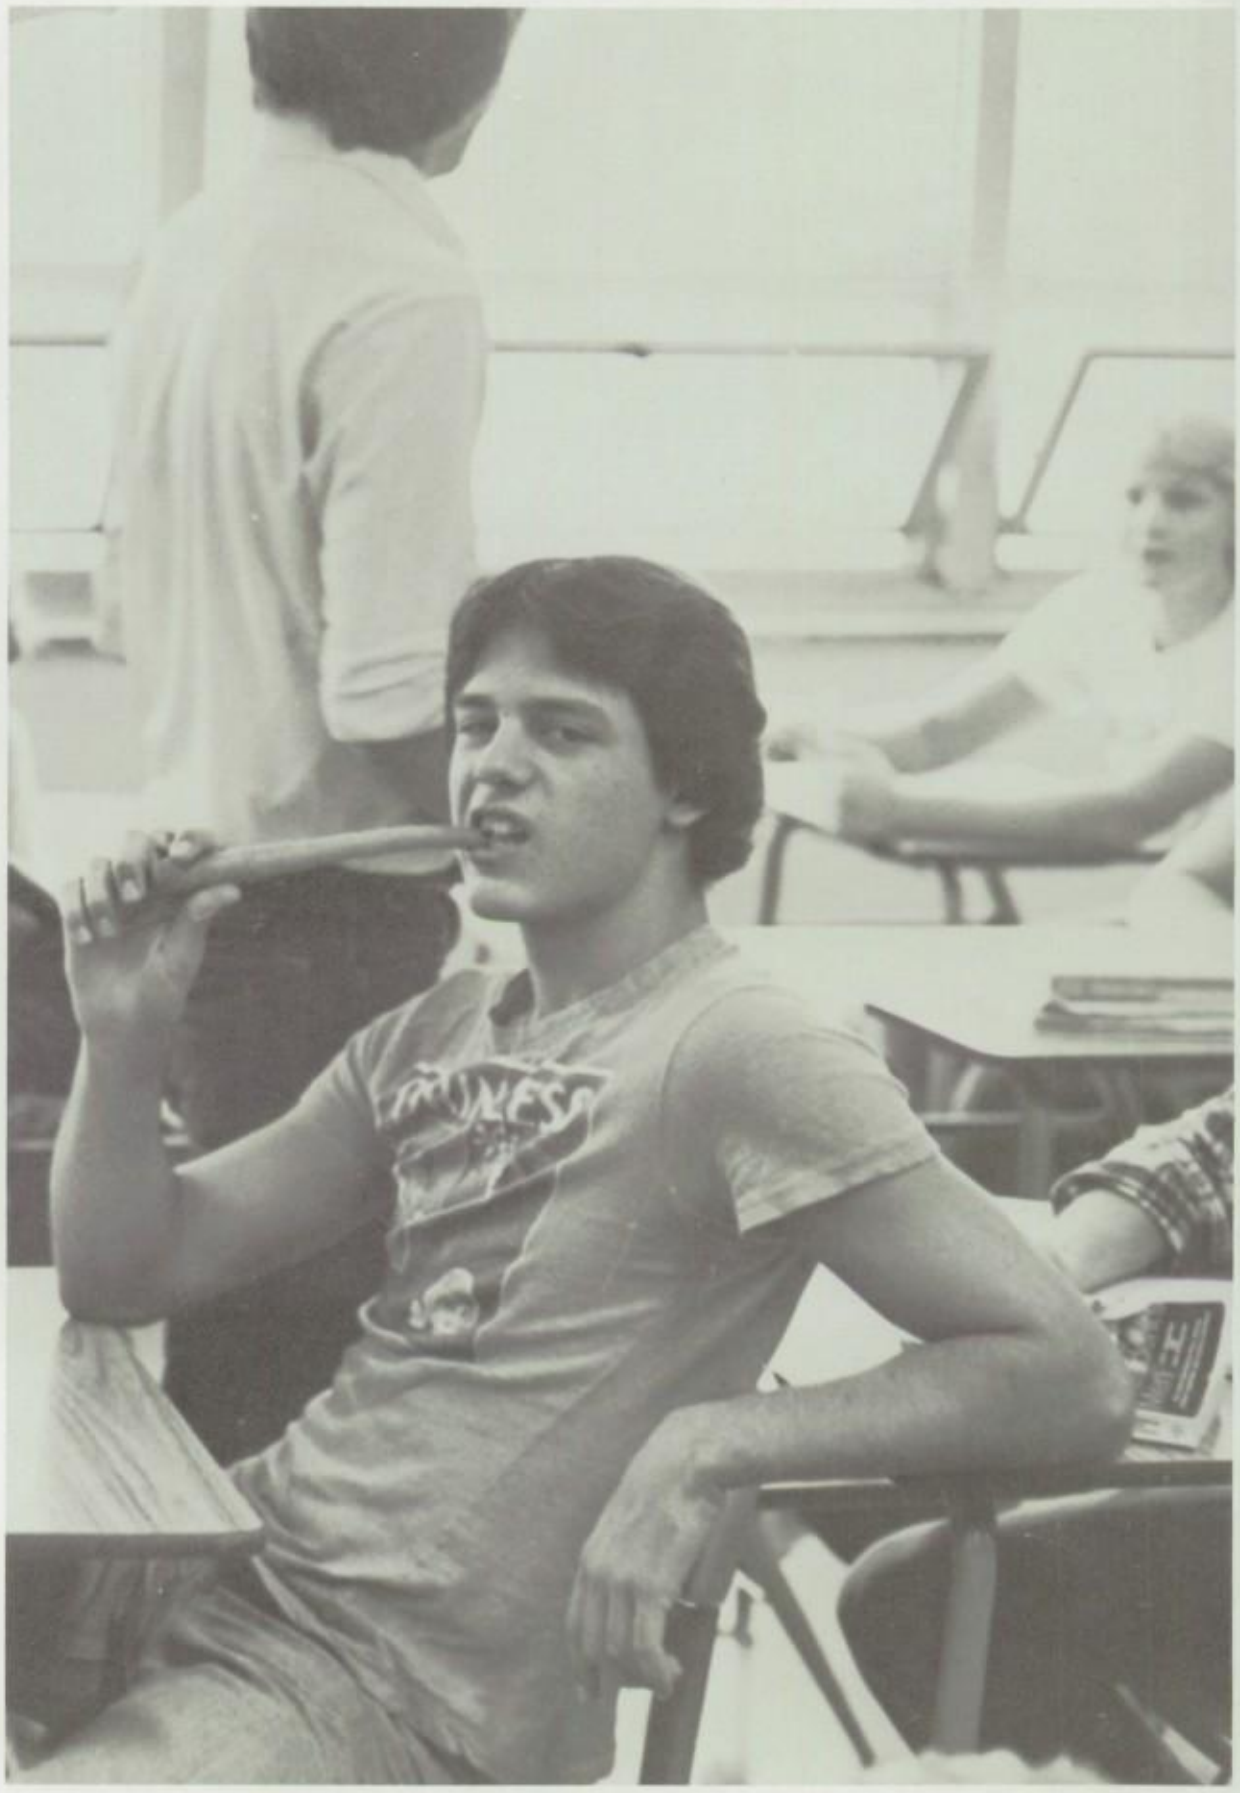
Mmmm Good

Potato chips, cookies, Twinkies, Cokes, pretzels, brownies, pop-tarts, Ho-Ho's, pies, cakes, ice cream, pop-corn, Frito's, crackers, cheesies, candy bars, peanuts, and suckers are only a few of the weapons students use to fight the munchies. These snacks can usually be found cluttering students' trays at lunchtime, in the halls between classes, in teachers desks, during a biology lecture and at all sporting events. Since the munchies can strike at anytime, many students also keep an ample supply in their lockers.

At home "raiding the refrigerator" often becomes an after-school priority. Between meals and right before bed this appliance appeals to numerous munchie-stricken teen-agers.

However, if the local "snack bar" seems to be bare, they can always resort to the Dairy Brazier, Burger Chef, or Pizza Hut (the favorite post-game attraction).

Grocery shopping provides Patti Moore an opportunity to select her snacks for the entire week.



During a second period College Study Skills class senior Eric Fordyce replaces his breakfast by munching on a carrot.

Senior Terri Garrison and junior Donn McKinney find that a visit to the nearby Dairy Queen after school makes waiting for dinner much easier.

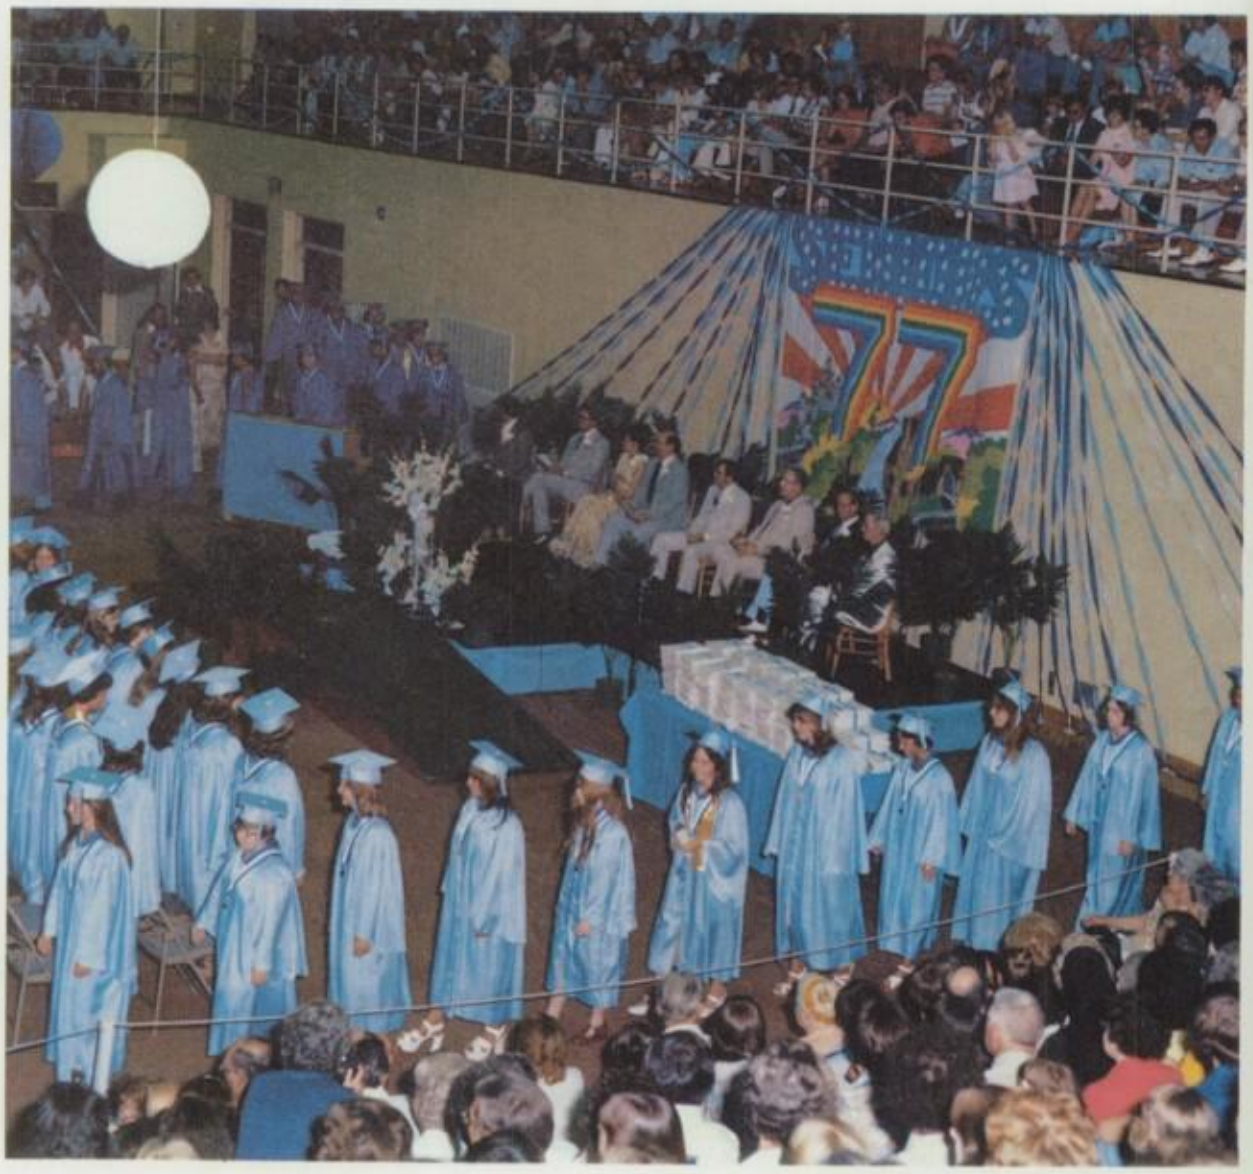
A balanced meal? Maybe not, but junior Coy Lickliter finds it's the best weapon to fight his munchies at lunch time.

'77 Seniors Survive Two Blue Nights

Super Bowl was not so super for the Super Seniors of '77 as their basketball team fell to the faculty's Mean Machine by a score of 60-56 for the first time in the bowl's four-year run. The sophomore class pulled to a victory in the tug-of-war contest and the seniors showed their superiority over the other three in the peanut pushing competition during half time. Through a successful student-directed campaign aiming at students to give her write-in votes, Mrs. Diana Laybold was crowned queen over the affair even though she was not on the ballot. Mr. Lowell Billings reigned over the event as he was crowned king.

Three hundred and forty-three seniors received their diplomas on the evening of May 31, 1977. Valedictorian Janet Cozad and Salutatorian Lisa Benard addressed their class in speeches concerning the future of their classmates as graduates of Decatur Central. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the seniors left their final marks on Decatur Central by squirting Sillystring and lighting firecrackers. Mr. Donald Huffman and Miss Janet Shahan co-sponsored the class and its many activities.

Salutatorian Lisa Benard "salutes" her classmates.



It was a "blue" night for the graduating class of 1977.

After being crowned king and queen by principal Marvin Armstrong, Queen "Libby" Laybold warmly hugs her friend King Lowell Billings.

Sophomore class officers Coy Lickliter and Debbie Richhart pay the penalty for losing to the seniors in the peanut pushing competition.

T-Shirts Reveal Personalities

One of the more common fashions at Decatur was the jean-T-shirt combination. The students were able to express their thoughts, views, idols and various puns just by wearing them on their shirts. T-shirts ranging from rock groups to famous people to cute quotes and favorite sports and places were expressed by the student body every day. Almost every kind of feeling and thought can be expressed with a shirt.

When It Rains It Pours

Spirit Week set the spark for Decatur Central's 1977 Homecoming set up by the Student Council. Students dressed in jerseys, funny hats and socks, suits, dresses, clashing outfits and blue and gold to show their spirit on different days of the week. Each class enjoyed its own party on the nights before the big game. Homecoming afternoon marked the second annual Field Day, after a morning pep session. The senior class dominated the events ranging from a tug-of-war to an obstacle course. A very rainy evening set the scene of the October 7 football classic, as Coach Ron Furniss' Hawks drenched the Brownsburg Bulldogs, 24-3. Seniors Jack Hill and Debbie Qualkenbush were chosen king and queen by the student body. Tom Whyde and Tracy Mills were elected prince and princess for the junior class, while the sophomores selected Randy King and Lana Foster as their prince and princess. Representing the freshman class were Rick Dodds and Kim Wells. Also featured at Homecoming was WTHR Channel 13's sportscaster Pete Liebengood in a cheerleading uniform, hoping to encourage spirit as well as have a good time. Guests at the annual Homecoming dance were entertained by the band Stones Crossing after the game.

Mr. Ted Fisher and senior Karl Roembke quickly try to devour their bananas in order to win the banana bite competition at Field Day.

Reigning over Homecoming '77 were King Jack Hill and Queen Debbie Qualkenbush.

2. Quick phone calls between classes become part of Dana Gorman's daily schedule.

"Hello!"
"Hi, what are you doing?"
"Nothing, how about you?"
"Oh, just watching television."

These four lines begin conversations between high school students every day—conversations over the telephone. Phones have become more than a means of communication, they also represent a pastime. On the average DC students spend two hours a day talking on the telephone. Some even claim that they often "chat" for six hours at a time.

Local phone booths, bedrooms and even pay telephones at school serve as common communication "depots". With the various types of telephones available today it is easy to see how they also can represent a personality. Princess phones are available for "royalty", touch-tone dials for "speed demons" and desk phones are appropriate for the business-minded student. (All these models come in any favorite color)

Homework, dates, basketball games and the usual gossip all represent infamous topics discussed via telephone.

Variety Show & Musical Open At DC

Juniors Jeff Vorhies, Mark Gagen and Chip Dukes earned themselves $25 for their rendition of "The Egg," an excerpt from the musical "1776." Senior Dan Wiesjahn won $15 for singing "If I Were A Rich Man," while sophomore Joy Lucas and senior Don Lee collected $10 for a third place finish dancing to "Dance, Dance, Dance." All were a part of "A Night at the Top," Decatur Central's variety show which opened the theatre season this year.

"You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown," a musical by Charles Schulz, was presented November 17 and 19. Senior Dan Wiesjahn portrayed Charlie Brown, while loud mouthed and obnoxious Lucy was played by junior April Vanlonden. Charlie Brown's dog, Snoopy, was portrayed by junior Mark Gagen and junior Jeff Vorhies enacted Linus. Others in the cast were senior Teresa Robinson, portraying Peppermint Patty, and junior Steve McCloud in the Schroeder role.

Charlie Brown (Dan Wiesjahn) explains to his friends the meaning of his book report.

Lucy (April Vanlonden) reveals her love for musicians, including a very reluctant Shroeder (Steve McCloud).

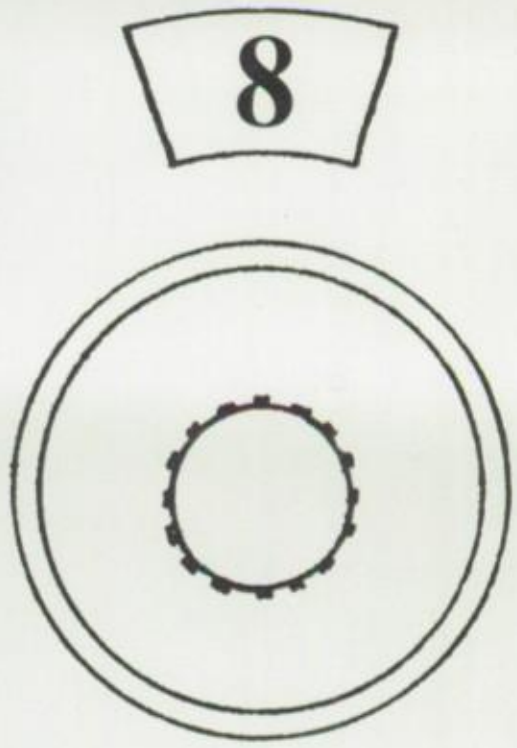
To some students, television is a break from everyday life, while watching television is part of the everyday life to others. According to a survey conducted by the HAWKEYE, Decatur Central students spend an average of three to four hours daily watching TV. Many students feel they can relate to those characters they see on television. Some claim they themselves are as cool as "the Fonz," are more beautiful than "Charlie's Angels," or are worth more than "The Six Million Dollar Man." Some students feel TV is more than just entertaining. To them, television is an educational, conversational and a highly provocative medium. They and most other students agree that television is a lot more than just a "boob tube."



We're Backing You Big Blue

Spirit is more than cheering for a winning team. Spirit is support and loyalty through thick and thin. Spirit is a feeling of belonging. Sometimes fans lose their spirit, but for the most part the students of DC are very supportive of their teams.

Fans are a very important part of the game as they fire up the players. Spirit may be making spirit tags, decorating the players' lockers, cheering oneself to a sore throat, or just sitting at the game.

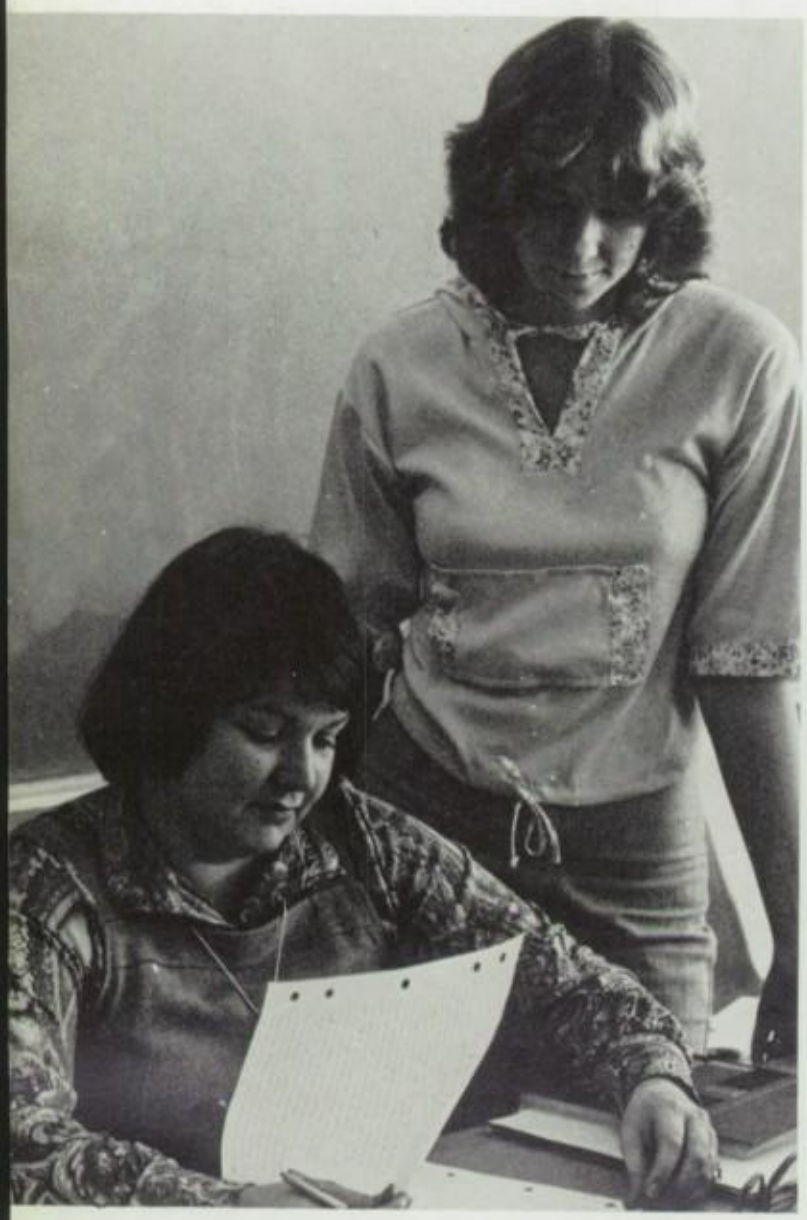
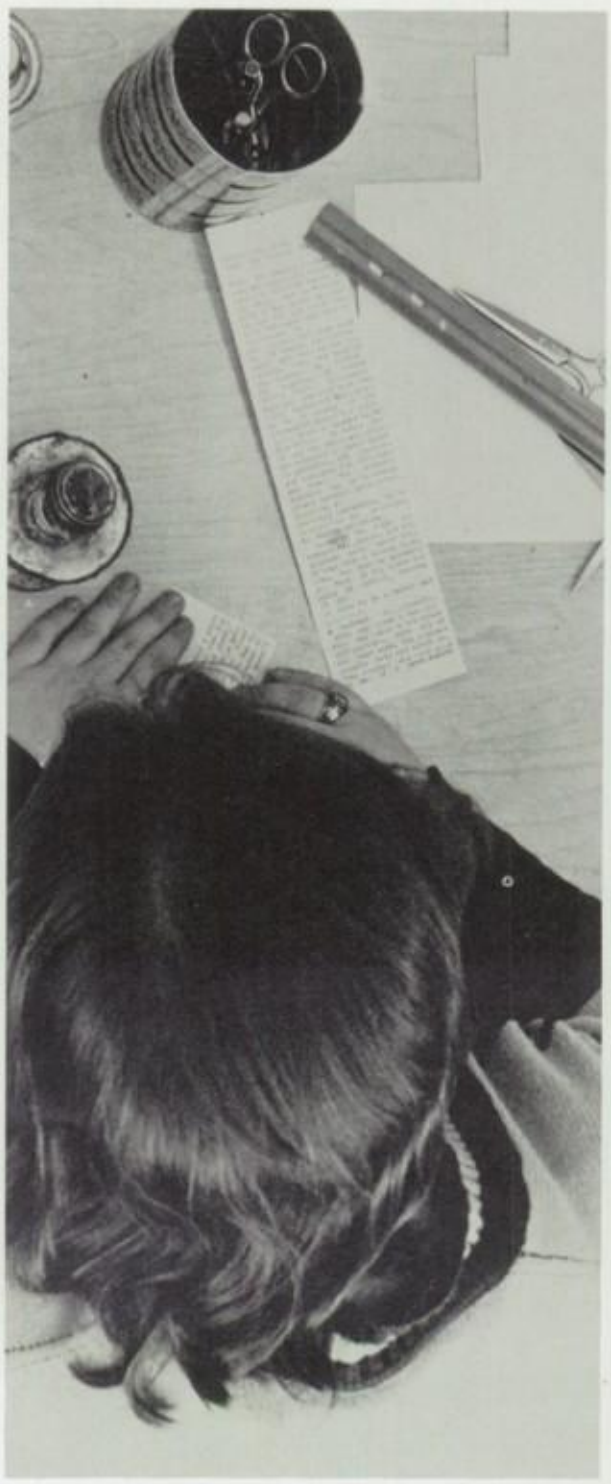
Publications Grow Even Bigger

Five members from the HAWKEYE staff attended Indiana University's summer journalism workshop. It was designed to sharpen their skills in reporting, writing, layout and photography. Terri Garrison led a large staff of 21, including four student photographers. Karl Vandivier headed the OUTLOOK newspaper staff, serving as editor-in-chief. Members from both staffs competed against other area high schools in the Greater Indianapolis Quill and Scroll Press Day. Lee Slade was the only plaque award winner for a first-place finish in the Advertising Copy and Layout competition.

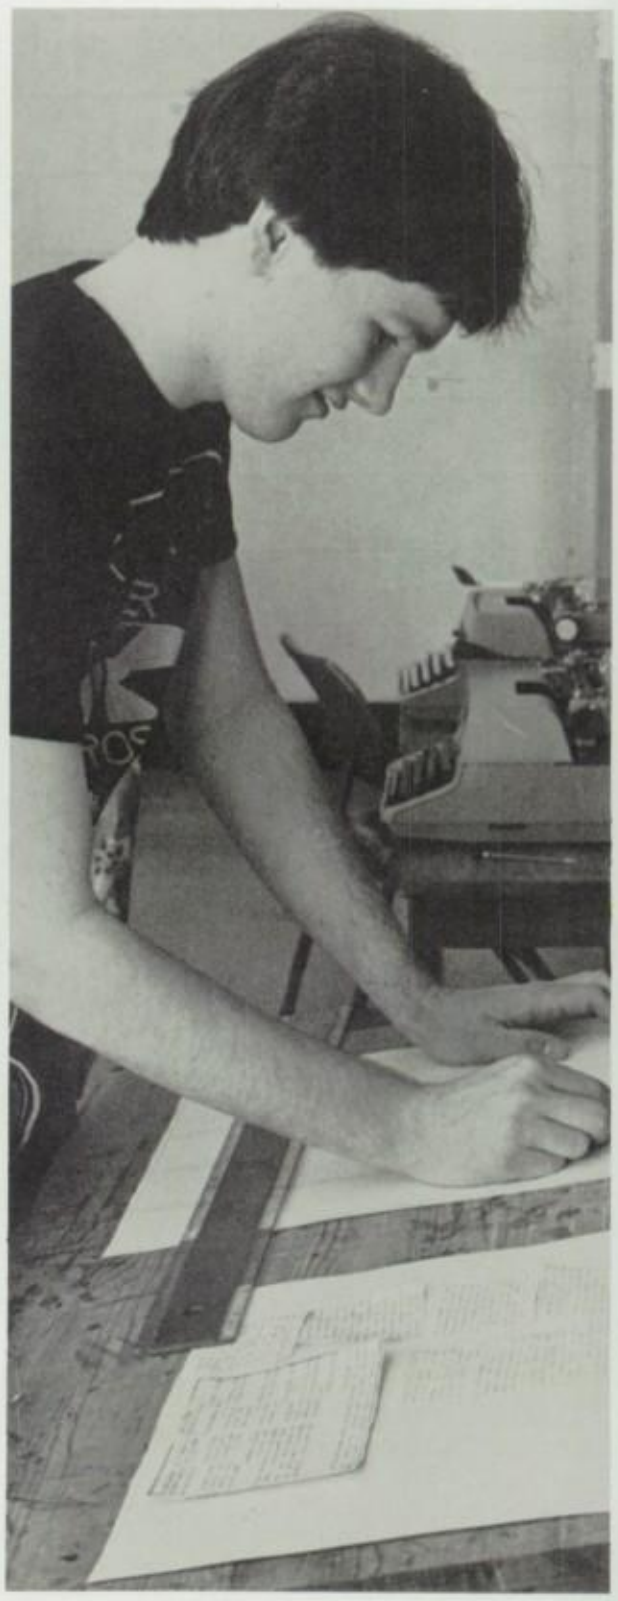
After hours, both staffs also enjoyed athletic competition. Plans were made for the third annual Toilet Bowl where the basketball team from each staff competed in this classic event. Proceeds went to the Quill and Scroll Banquet scheduled for May.



OUTLOOK adviser Diana Laybold edits a story of reporter Lori Johnson.

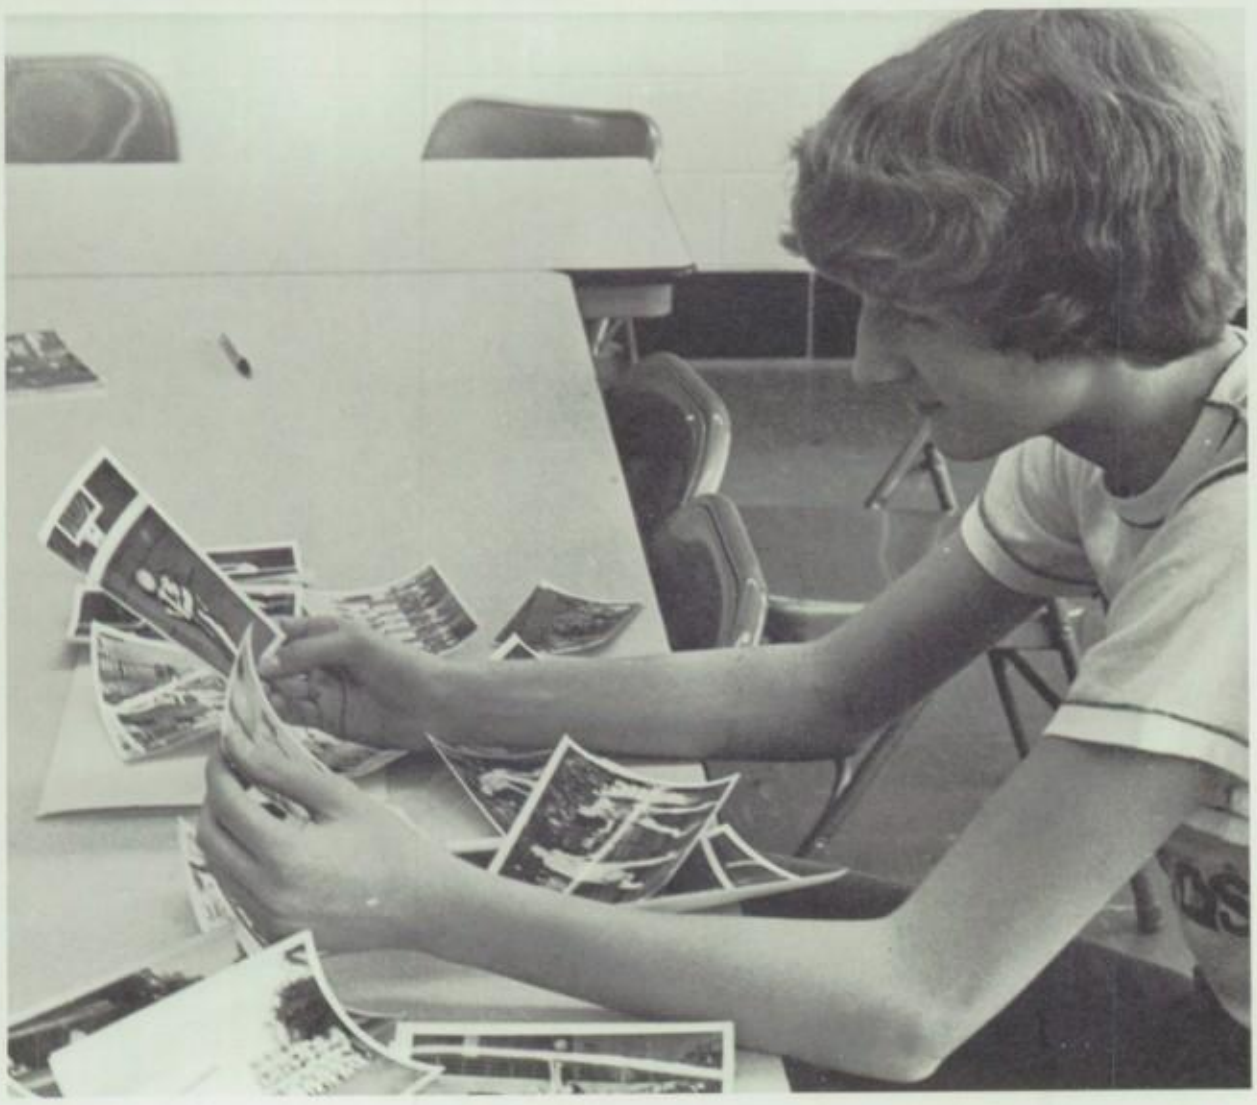


OUTLOOK reporter Lee Slade cuts and pastes the stories to remove spelling and typing errors.



Editor-in-chief Karl Vandivier pastes the nameplate on the front page of the OUTLOOK.

Interviewing is an important part of writing a story as OUTLOOK sports reporter Marlene Linville questions varsity basketball coach Jim Petty about another Hawk victory.



HAWKEYE staffer Julie Shoulders uses a cropper to decrease the size of a picture proportionally to fit the layout.

Choosing pictures that capture a winning basketball season for the yearbook is one job for sports writer Josh Davis.

Cary, Collins Lead "Everybody's Band"

Nearly every person at DC has seen the Decatur Central Band perform at one time or another. It provides music for the football and basketball games, as well as the pep sessions. Observers have probably also noticed the two individuals who lead the band through these appearances. These people are Drum Major Mark Cary and Assistant Drum Major Corinne Collins. They are in control of the band for all contests. This position offers them a very unique view of the band.

"I have a lot of confidence in the band," said Corinne. "We have a lot of talent."

"It's a big responsibility," commented Mark. "The band depends on the directions we give, and if we do poorly, so do they." As in all aspects of school, spirit plays a large part in the band's performance.

"I'd like to get more enthusiasm back in the band," said Mark. "When we go to contests at other schools, many of the people who see us have never seen Decatur Central before. The impression we give is the impression they hold for the entire school." The band's spirit was shown this year with a first division rating at Lebanon High School in its first performance. "The band is something all students should be proud of," said Mark. "We are part of the school, like any other team. It's everybody's band!"

Getting Intensive With Business

"The whole idea of the 'lab' is exposing the girls to office aspects," stated Mrs. Colgrove. Intensive Office Lab (I.O.L.) aids students in deciding whether they want a career in business.

This course offers an office setting by providing business machines and an office atmosphere to twenty students. However, due to lack of publicity and demand, only sixteen girls were enrolled this past year. Business machines that are offered in this course range from electronic stencil cutters to calculators. An office setting aids the students in decisions of the business world. The important thing is to be given a chance to decide between what career a student enjoys or dislikes.

Presenting The D.C. Choirs

Overcoming "lackadaisical attitudes" and managing to "get on top of the note" help Charles Craig in his direction of the six various choral groups.

Preparing the groups choreographically is of utmost concern. Breathing drills are a daily ritual ("Volleyball up!") as the director encourages the students to "set their priorities."

It is a rigorous schedule the choir is expected to meet and the director is not beyond grumbling "that's not in my contract" as well as "obviously you can't work as fast as I do."

"Tone, tone, semitone," "2-3-2 sing!" "You're wasting beats," and "Wah!"

Through all of this work Mr. Craig concedes that "You people are very good to work with."

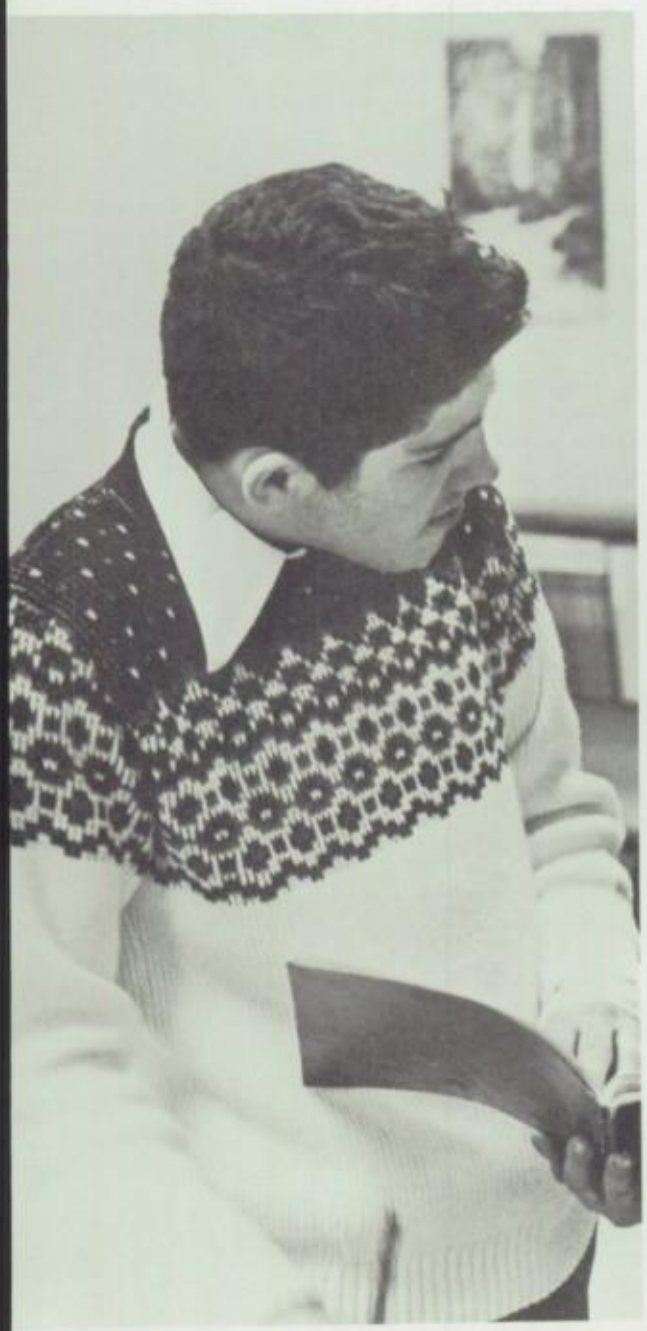
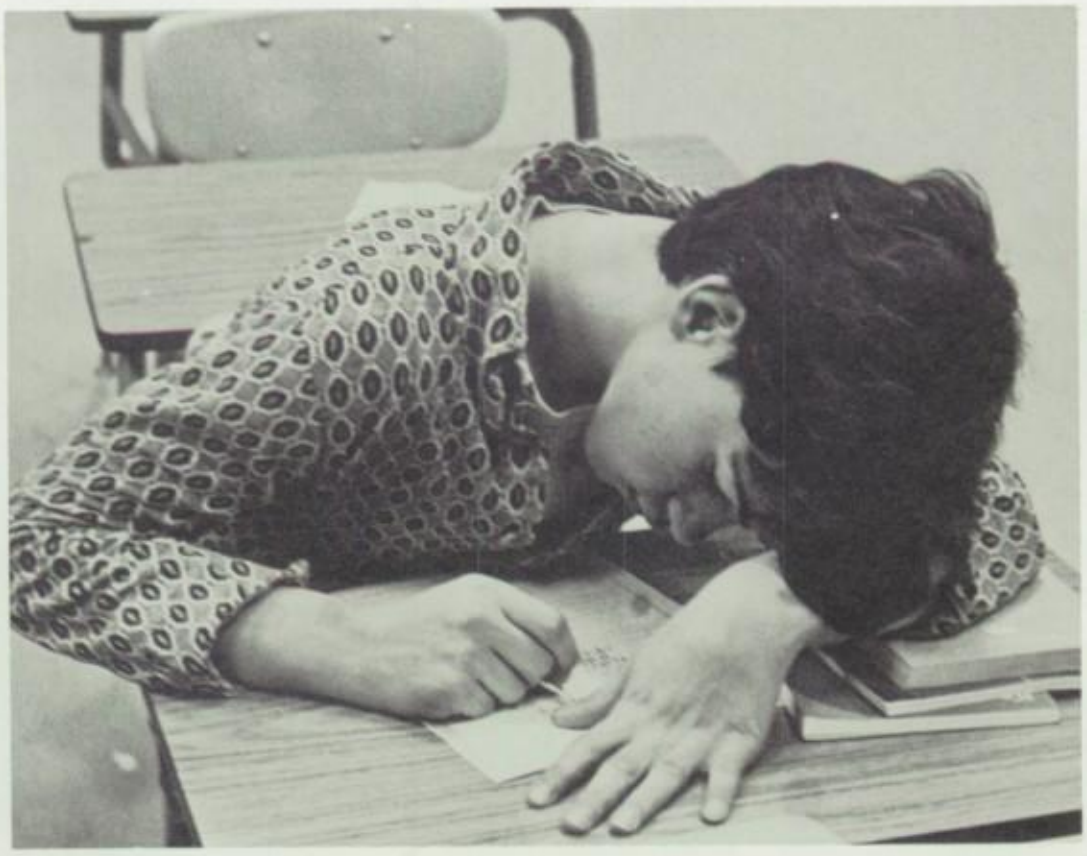
PVE Students Benefit Community

Junior Fred Wessel has two years of experience in the job market. He is presently employed at Lynwood Elementary School where he serves as a custodian. Fred enjoys his work and hopes to continue it next year.





Don Johnson, left, and Eddie Wondergem, above, were not eligible for the work program this year because of their freshman status. However, during the summer months they will both hold jobs in construction and at a local YMCA. Besides gaining useful experience, they are also able to earn some spending money.

Foreign Languages: An American Way Of Life

"America . . . the melting pot of the world." Although here in our community foreign influences are not as apparent as in larger communities, our lifestyles are affected each day by the mixture in cultures.

Foreign phrases have become trademarks for many products, and are common in everyday conversations, as well as in many of the popular songs. Consequently, foreign languages are not only required for entrance to some colleges, but are the binding thread between America and the influx of cultures that make up our beginnings.

Health And PE Initiate Lifesaving Courses

Of all the skills known to man, some of the most important are those which help save lives. The health department arranged to have two classes on CPR taught after school this fall. The classes, which were two hours long, were instructed by two registered nurses who were certified in CPR training.

Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation was the newest form of reviving heart failure victims. It was designed to be used along with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. CPR involves two people. One person compresses the heart externally, while the second performs mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. By working together, they are able to breathe for the victim.

P.E. instructors at DC were also helping to teach students lifesaving skills. Each gym class spent at least two weeks swimming. During this course, the students were taught basic first aid and water safety.

Working together in this way, these classes were trying to prepare students for any accidents or emergencies which might occur.

DC HOME EC: HOME AWAY FROM HOME

Once upon a time a boy and a girl met, fell in love, and were married. The girl was Lisa Riggen and the boy was Jack Hill of Mrs. Hubler's family relations classes. They had a mock Quaker wedding performed by Rev. James Marshall on November 16. The service was complete with a dress and veil for the bride, refreshments, and tuxes donated by Top Hat. These two are only one pair who have decided to begin their own home together. Building a home is a task which requires much planning, hard work, and a lot of love. The house itself must be chosen and the different rooms must be furnished in agreement with the tastes of the couple. Practice in the tasks of homemaking such as sewing, cooking and home furnishings is essential to living happily ever after. These skills are offered in DC's home economics classes to prepare students for building their own homes. Department head Mrs. Therese Graves commented, "Home economics consists of classes in practical living centered around home and family."

Power Trans Receives Chevy Van

Developing manual skills and training students to work with tools and machines are the goals of the industrial arts classes. These classes consist of drafting, printing, power transportation, vocational machine shop, wood shop, and electric shop. Besides helping a student to fit into a world of work, industrial arts training also gives a student a chance to be creative. The third year wood shop classes constructed mini-barns while the power transportation classes overhauled a van. The van was donated to Decatur Central by Hubler Chevrolet.

Students Plan For Future Careers

In today's job market there are an almost unlimited number of different careers, ranging from taxi driving to aerospace technology. Many of these are gaining annually in demand. Students considering one of these careers are often urged to take several years of mathematics. According to the analytics students at DC, math will be used in many different ways. Mechanical and architectural engineers must use many math concepts in planning and constructing intricate designs. Accounting was another career that students were interested in. Public accountants record various types of information and dates for organizations and this work involves several aspects of mathematics. One career that is expanding more rapidly than any other is computer programming. Students planning to enter this field must have training in many concepts of math in order to program the computer.

Today's careers require a broad understanding of math, and Decatur Central students are therefore making math a part of their academic training.

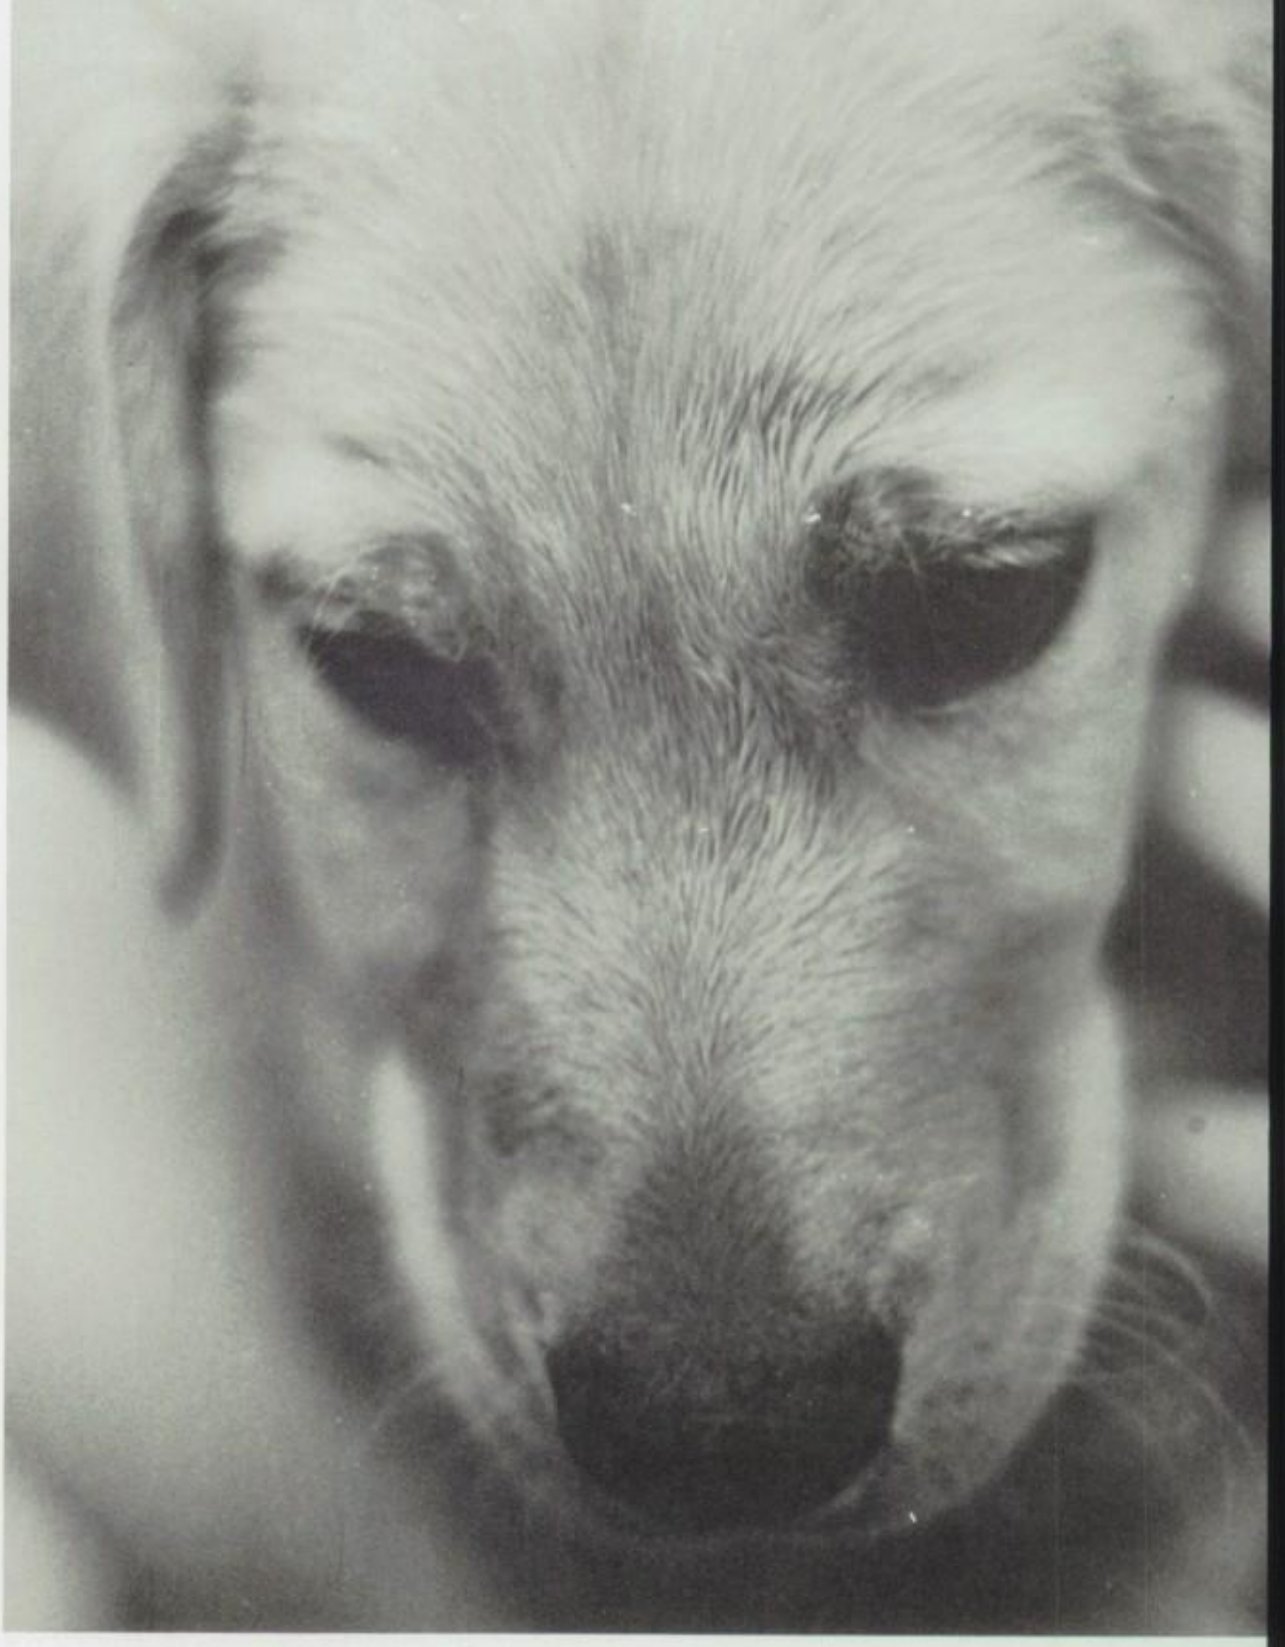
Wildlife Preserves Education

Mourning doves are one of the favorite animals among the students.

It has been said that not all information to be learned is in the text book. Much information can be gained only by seeing it in real life. The science department at DC has found a way to give students the opportunity to learn in this way.

Biology, the study of life, involves the study of animals. The biology classes at DC have several displays of preserved species open to students for observation. Along with this, Mr. Charles Alber has compiled a large assortment of live animals for his classes to study. This group consists of several guinea pigs, mice, gerbils, hamsters, rats, three mourning doves and a few snakes, including a six foot boa constrictor. The boa, named Gollum, is regularly fed live prey in order that students may observe the hunting and feeding processes. Information such as this cannot be learned nearly as well by reading it from a book, as by seeing it happen.



This puppy seems contented to be one of the many stray animals that found homes with science students.

Social Studies And Lectures The Perfect Couple?

Social Studies and lectures went together like "baseball, hotdogs, apple pie, and Chevrolet." The trouble was students just did not seem to like them. While in social studies lectures, students found a wide variety of activities to keep them from taking notes. Time usually went so slowly that students fell asleep. If a student was wide awake but still bored, that's when the fun began. Heading the long line of activities were talking and "visiting with your neighbor." A student who was caught at this had to resort to other things like counting ceiling tiles, catching flies (when in season), watching a train go by, proving that there were 1001 things to do with an 8½" by 11" sheet of paper, writing notes or just plain ignoring the teacher. During morning classes students were often seen finishing breakfast or starting lunch. Almost anything was better than listening to a lecture.

In order to help students follow the lecture and better organize their notes, Mrs. Laverne Cantrall usually outlines her lectures on an overhead projector.

SCORERS

Twelve new coaches and a girls' golf team enhanced the hand of activities for all DC sports enthusiasts.

The coaching additions ranged from boys' varsity basketball (Mr. Jim Petty) to girls' varsity swimming (Miss Brenda Snapp). The shuffle of thirteen teams into the hands of new leaders provided athletes and spectators a year of different game plans and non-stop action.

Under the supervision of Mr. Don Huffman, girls' golf was dealt to the sports agenda. The nine members of the team showed a promising future as together they cut 115 strokes off of the team's 18-hole total between the Marion County meet and sectionals.

Even though numerous changes occurred in the sports department, one thing remained —the desire to win. This desire helped every team live up to its expectations—SCORERS.

With assistance from catcher Jay Long and a "fungo" bat, varsity baseball coach Mr. Bill Taylor finds it easier to hit the ball to any position, giving each player equal fielding practice.

"It Was The Loudest Sound I Ever Heard"

"Our program is looking up and with the addition of Bob Frieje's enthusiasm and dedication, we should start winning consistently in the next year or two, barring any problems," stated Coach Bill Taylor. Although the 1977 varsity baseball team's record was 11-18, the Hawks showed a great deal of improvement and progress over the course of the season. Senior Brian Hankins was awarded the Citizenship award, while Jay Long's batting earned him the Most Valuable and Batting awards. The 1978 season looks promising as there will be seven returning lettermen. Coach Bill Taylor's returning lettermen for the upcoming 1978 season will be Warren DuBois, Mark Moreland, Tom Soeurt, Todd Sprinkle, Randy Hynes, Coy Lickliter and Tom Whyde.

Lightning Fells Six Baseball Players, Coach

Lightning knocked down members of the Decatur Central High School baseball team yesterday and was believed to have caused a fire in a $85,000 house near Fishers during an electrical storm that brought hail across Indianapolis and much of Central Indiana.

Six members of the Decatur Central team and their coach were knocked down at Franklin Central High School when lightning flashed over the field during a game.

"It was the loudest sound I ever heard," Decatur Coach William Taylor said. "Players told me that the lightning did not seem to strike the field, but was seen traveling horizontally, low over the outfield."

Players knocked down were Joseph Purichia, pitcher; Coy Lickliter, second baseman; Brian Hankins, right fielder; Thomas Soeurt, left fielder; Pat McGraw, first baseman, and Dan Combs, a relief pitcher.

The squad's most improved player, freshman Sally Hynes, finished in the team's third position at the season's end. From the time of the Marion County meet to the time of the sectionals, 48 strokes were cut from the team's 9-hole total. The number one doubles team of Root and sophomore Brian Ramey recorded a 9-4 season. The team competed in the sectionals at Avon and made it to semi-final competition, defeating Zionsville and Avon before falling to Speedway. Senior Mike Urban received the citizenship award while senior Mark Root was named Most Valuable Player. Hawks Nab Homecoming Victory

With the assistance of 18 returning lettermen, the 1977 Varsity Football Team compiled a 3-7 record. The team had a strong comeback the last half of the season, winning three of their final five games, after having been 0-5 at the midpoint of the season. A 24-3 Homecoming victory over Brownsburg in their final home game highlighted the gridders' season. Seniors David Doan, Jack Hill and Alex Wessel served as co-captains for the team. Senior Merlyn Richards set a school record by kicking three field goals in one season. Seniors Tim Saylor and Jack Hill received Most Valuable Back and Most Valuable Lineman respectively. Most Valuable Player went to senior David Doan. The citizenship trophy was awarded to Kevin Beanblossom. The 1978 team returns 12 lettermen, guided by juniors Kenny Clarkson, Tim Garver, Dan Lee and Tom Whyde. Clarkson, Garver and Whyde will serve as co-captains for the '78 squad. The reserve team posted a 1-8 record and were guided by the outstanding play of junior Charlie Bell and sophomores Mike Tutsie, David Russell and John Archer.

Hood Qualifies For State

Concluding another successful season, the 1977 Varsity Cross Country Team qualified for regional competition for the fourth straight year. Coach Fisher's forces compiled a 12-1 dual meet record while attaining firsts in the Golden Spike and Pike Hokum Karum invitationals and a second place in the conference meet. Leading the Hawks, senior Mike Hood shaved 11 seconds from his own school record by posting a time of 12:19 in the sectional meet. With only seniors Mike Hood and Brett Taber graduating off the top seven, the 1978 squad should produce another impressive season. Returning lettermen for the Hawks include juniors Mark Henry, Randy Hynes, Jay Lucas, Chris Smith, Mike Wagner and Richard Wandling and sophomores Erich Bauer, Gregg Monfreda and Brian Rumple. Mike Hood was recipient of the MVP award, while Randy Hynes was awarded the citizenship plaque, and Brett Taber received "most improved" honors.

Hill, Adams Grab County Titles

Although the grappling Hawks finished the 1977-78 season with a disappointing 4-8 dual meet record, they placed highly against many state ranked opponents in their tournament competition. Leading the team with individual first places in both the Marion County and CSAC tournaments were senior co-captains Jack Hill and Bret Adams. Also placing for the Hawks in the Marion County meet were seniors Bob Cast and Brett Taber with second and third places respectively. Regional qualifiers for the 1978 Hawks included junior Greg Francis, Taber, and Cast with seconds in the sectional and sophomore Gary Carmack, Adams and senior Don Kuroiwa obtaining sectional crowns. The reserve wrestling team, with first-year coach David Walpole, also had a champion in junior Ted Saylor as he placed first in both the Decatur Central Invitational and the reserve CSAC. Receiving the Most Valuable Wrestler award was Adams, who also was recipient of the Star Award. With nine seniors graduating from the varsity team, Francis and Carmack will be the only lettermen returning for the 1978-79 season.

Seniors Phil Blain and Mark Stout signal a victory for the Hawk cagers.

Under the guidance of new head coach Jim Petty, the 1977-78 Boys Varsity Basketball Team boosted its season record to 9-11 over last year's record of 5-15. The Hawk season was highlighted by a victory over Plainfield in a locally televised game. Seniors Phil Blain, Mike Urban, Mark Stout and Dave Purichia added great floor leadership to the Hawks' attack. The reserve cagers, led by the scoring of junior Randy Hynes, finished their season with a record of 2-16. Much experience was gaired by Coach Bruce Hensley's jr. varsity team in preparation for the varsity level next year. Team leader Phil Blain was awarded MVP honors while Mike Urban acquired the citizenship award.

Young Gymnasts Gain Experience

For the first time the gymnastic team began its season under a new coach. Mrs. Julie Wood, with the assistance of Miss Kay Kelsay, helped the young team establish a record of 1-9. Leading the team in each of their respective events were junior Marcene Rasmussen on the uneven bars, junior Kelly Urban in balance beam competition, seniors Dawn Jeffers and Jackie Jones and junior Debbie Richhart placing consistently in both vaulting and floor exercise. "This team shows great potential and they have what it takes to be winners," commented Coach Wood.

Guided by seven returning lettermen and first year coach Brenda Snapp, the Girls Swim Team was successful in five of 17 outings. "We had a good building season," elaborated Coach Snapp. "We have some young outstanding swimmers who will be back next year."

Three new school records were set in the CSAC meet: freshman Angie Hunt in the 500 freestyle, sophomore Julie Shoulders in the 100 backstroke and Hunt, Shoulders, freshman Laurel White and MVP junior Vicki Dewbrew in the 400 free relay. Co-captain junior Jody Stahlhut received the citizenship award and junior Dava Joseph was awarded Most Improved honors.

Snow Binds Swimmers

After a snowbound season for the boys swim team, the Aquahawks had two meets canceled, due to lack of time, between snow and sectionals. Even with four returning lettermen, the Aquahawks had a disappointing record.

Leading the way for the swimmers were senior captains Craig Jones, Mike Kugelman and Jim Standeford. Promising underclassmen are freshmen Scott Standeford and Jeff Vickers, sophomores Brian Brady and Walter Brunk and junior Doug Davis. Capturing the MVP award was Jim Standeford, while Jeff Vickers received citizenship honors.

Coach Dave Wiik commented, "Lacking experience, this year's record was not what we hoped it would be. With the steady improvement of many of our underclassmen this year, the next few years should be very successful."

Girl Cagers Capture CSAC Crown

With a season record of 12-3, the 1977-78 Girls Varsity Basketball team became CSAC champions for the second consecutive year. The team shot 37% from the field and 59% at the charity stripe while also averaging 50 rebounds and 13 assists per game. They also set a school record by scoring 82 points in a single game against Danville High School. Avenging their only three losses of the previous season, the Hawks beat Southport in their first confrontation. However, the Hawks were eliminated early in both the Marion County and Sectional tournaments with both losses coming at the hands of the Cardinals. The 1978-79 season should prove to be very impressive as only seniors Tandace Joseph and Debbie Qualkenbush will be lost due to graduation. Returning lettermen include juniors Debbie Cole, Becky French, Kathy Hurst, Donna Small and Sabrina Sharp.

Frosh Show Promise For Future

Frosh competition in high school athletics is the foundation in the making of a varsity athlete. The freshmen of 1978 compiled a record of 7-1 in Cross Country, with a second place finish in the county meet. The team was coached by Bruce Hensley. Frosh wrestling coach Bob Frieje, who also co-coached football with Bill Taylor, elaborated on the frosh athletes by saying, "They are a group of young men who will be known for their hard work and dedication to athletics." His wrestlers completed a 7-5-1 season and finished fifth in the county. Rounding out the class of '81, the footballers compiled a 3-5-1 record, which was the best frosh football record in three years; and the cagers finished their season 6-9, coached by Bob McCoy. Last year's frosh of 1977 completed track and baseball records of 4-2 and 2-7 respectively. Ron Furniss coached track while Peter Corrao coached the diamondmen.

PLAYERS

What would a card game be without players? There certainly would not be very many points scored. Decatur Central did not have to worry about this because the school was provided with over 1,400 competitors. Adding to the number was a record 451 entering freshmen.

Each of the four classes sponsored various money-making projects whose proceeds funded class activities. Included in these were Kings Island and skiing trips, the prom, graduation and watermelon bust.

For the first year each grade was designated an evening during spirit week for class parties. Euchre and ping-pong tournaments, apple bobbing, ice cream and peanut butter sandwich-eating contests provided ample competition among class members.

With all the extra activities and games added to the class agenda, all members improved their status as PLAYERS.

Painting the tree on the front lawn has become the number one pastime to many students of Decatur Central. "78 SENIORS" appeared on the tree more than anything else this year, thanks to senior Carl Krutz, who feels that it shows "the superiority of the senior class of '78. It's my way of showing spirit for this great class." Tree painting is an experience, one in which students practice their artistic abilities. But to the many who work loyally to keep their number on that tree, it becomes an everyday job in a never ending battle.

Faculty

During their somewhat rare spare time, teachers possess the need to take part in many interesting hobbies. These range from various types of sports to the daring activity of skydiving.

In addition to their hobbies, teachers spend a great deal of time with their pets. Teachers take pride in the naming of each individual animal, whether it be a poodle named Kamehameha or an alley cat named Mange. Naming their animals gives the teachers a chance to use their creativity in other ways than just in the classroom.

DEALERS

Community gas stations and stores are conveniences which many people take for granted. However, they become essential when a car is low on gas or an essential grocery item is forgotten. These name only two of many dealers important to the community.

Besides products, these businesses also provide financial assistance for numerous high school affiliations, such as sports programs, band uniforms and yearbook. With their funds they received an essential part of business—advertisements. Because how can a company hope to succeed if no one knows it exists?

It is easy to see that a dealer cannot continue without help from the community. Also a community, like a card game, cannot continue without DEALERS.

Snow Bound Students Take Advantage Of Extra Vacations

A January 25 blizzard and a total of 31 inches of accumulating snow during the month, topped by sub-zero temperatures, gave students an extra ten days of vacation.

Students took advantage of the weather to bring out the "stored away" inner-tubes and sleds. Riverside, Martinsville and backyards offered slick slopes of ice and snow which became popular sledding resorts. The bitter winter also gave students a chance to catch up on some missed Christmas celebration which was cut short by a "break" consisting of five days less than last year.

Tracy Mills finds keeping her balance a much harder task in the winter months than in any other season.

Sledding would be much easier for Ron Carter if Mark Vogel had waited his turn.

Winter may mean a vacation for students, but it only adds to custodian Bill Oakes' duties.

Trudging up the steep hill at Riverside, Mark Vogel, Ron Carter, Jim Vogel and David Wenzlick look forward to a quick trip down.

Inner-tubes provide transportation and enjoyment for Ron Carter, Mark Vogel and David Wenzlick on a cold day of sledding.

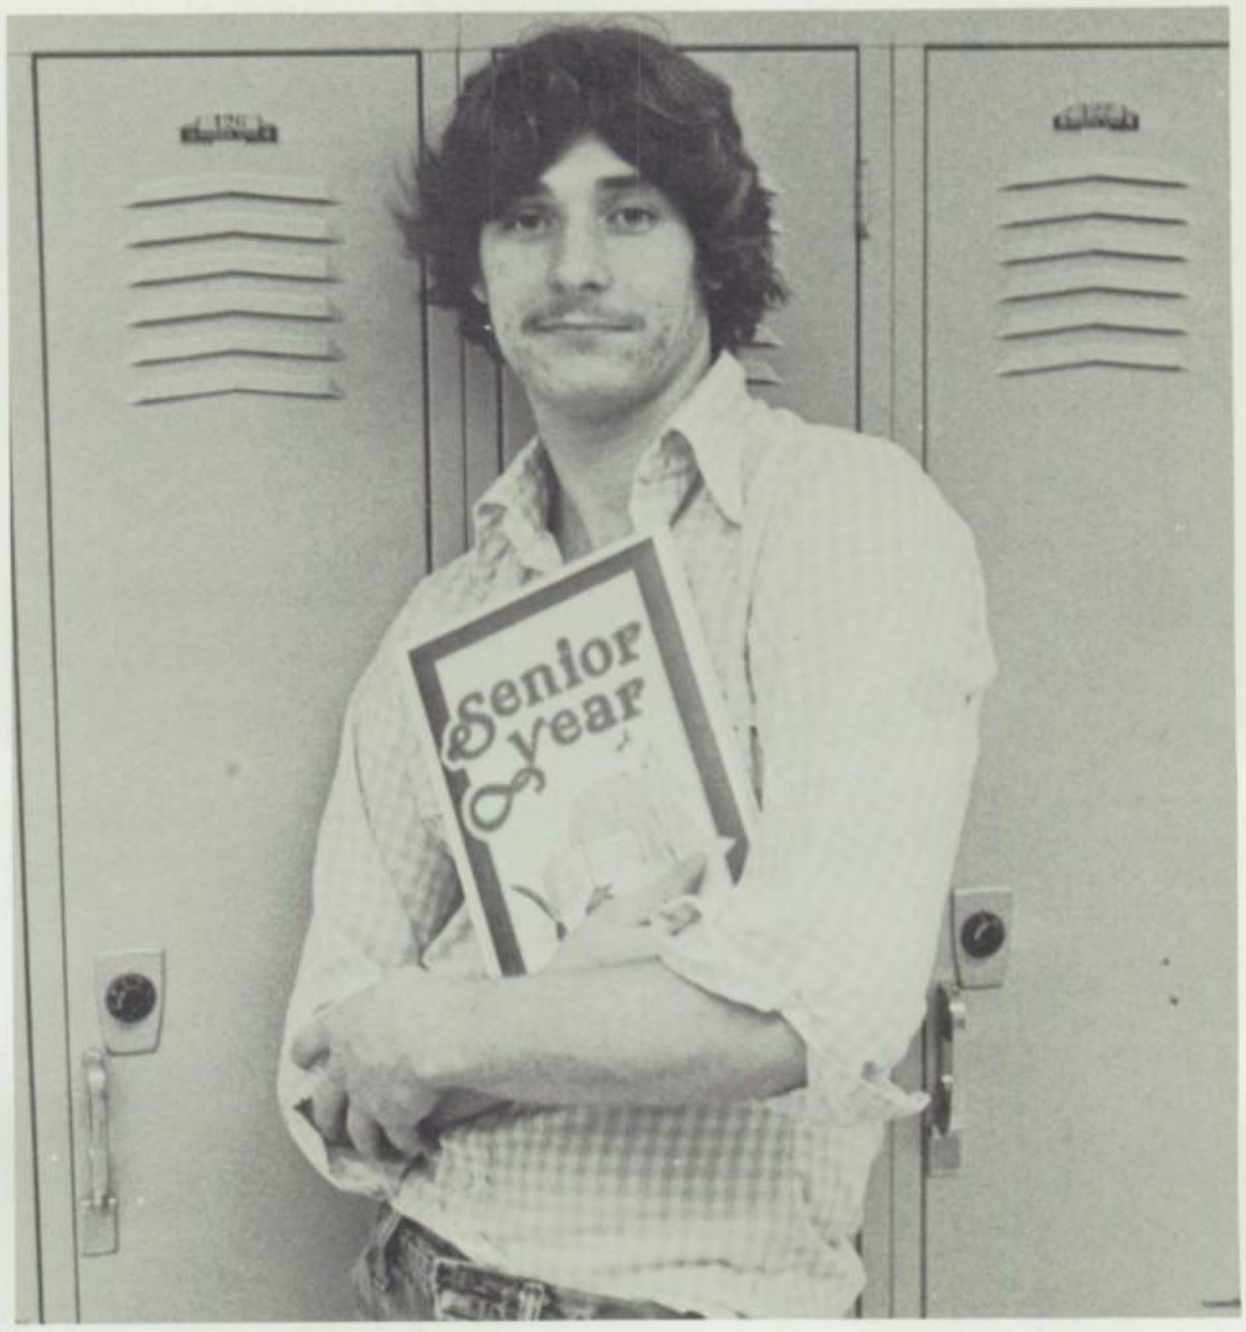
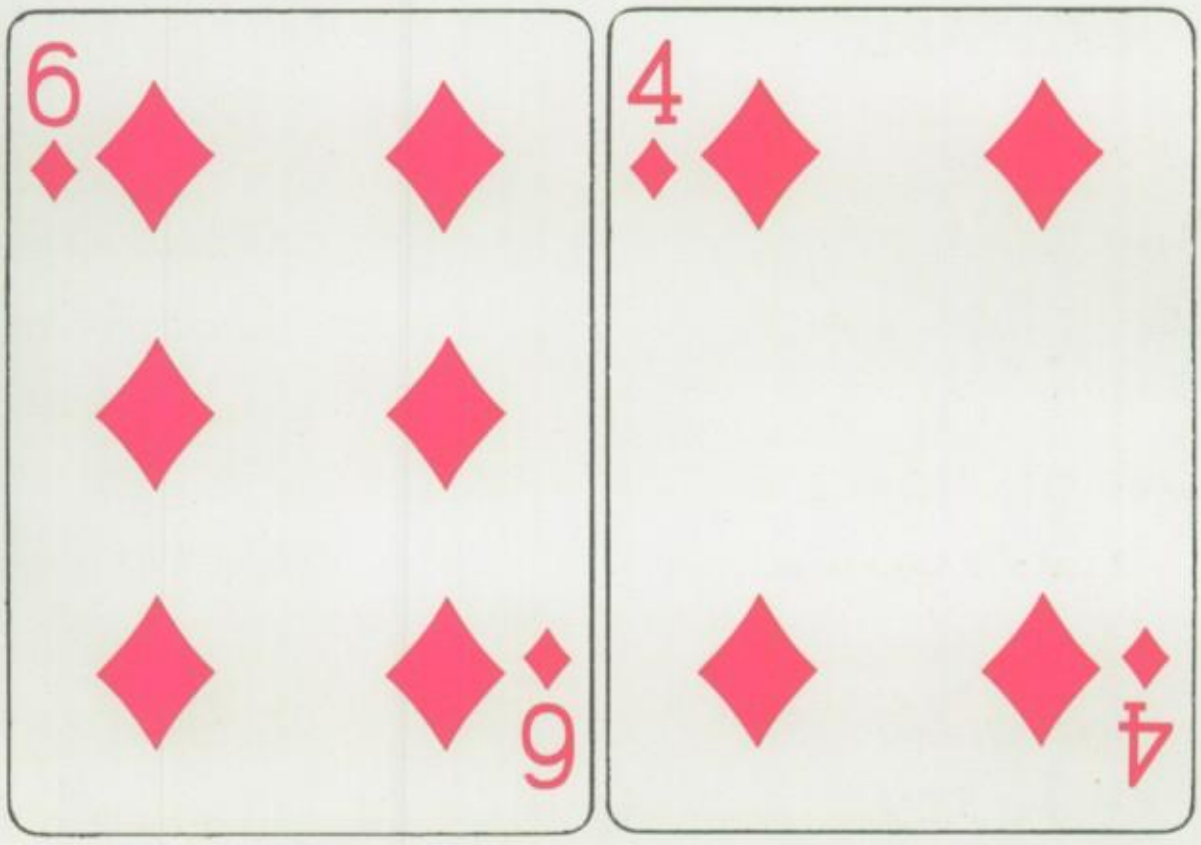
END OF ROUND ONE

Even though the requirements are complete, this is only the end of one game—the series continues. High school may have been a total success, but do not simply fold. It is only one victory in a world of constant games. What comes next? It is up to each individual. Work or further education is the main choice. Either one can make students successes or failures, depending on how they play their cards. Yet, no matter how far ahead or behind people are, they should always play their trump and strive for the best hand possible.

Senior class president Jim Bryan distributes two remembrances of the "last year" (a senior key and a memory book) to Paula Brady.



Ed Hunter holds the memories of his fourth and final round of high school.



PLAY YOU TRUMP

After four years of "playing the game," this diploma represents the reward of a victorious ending.
